Концерт № I для скрипки с оркестром Бела Бартока написан в 1907 году и посвящен венгерской скрипачке Штефи Гейер, соученице композитора по музыкальной академии. Первая часть Концерта была полностью повторена в сочинявшихся в то же время «Двух портретах», ор. 5, для оркестра. По-видимому, это обстоятельство заставило композитора отказаться от прижизненной публикации этого Концерта. Рукопись партитуры Концерта хранилась в архиве Штефи Гейер и согласно ее завещанию была впервые исполнена только в 1958 году. Первое исполнение состоялось в Базеле скрипачом Гансом Шнееbергом и оркестром под управлением Пауля Захера. Партитура издана в 1959 году фирмой Boosey & Hawkes в Лондоне.

Béla Bartók composed his First Violin Concerto in 1907; he dedicated it to Steffi Geyer, a Hungarian violinist, a fellow-student of his at the Academy of Music. The Concerto's first movement was incorporated in full in the orchestral "Two Portraits", Op. 5, composed at the same time. It was probably for that reason that Bartók abstained from publishing the Concerto in his lifetime. The MS score of the Concerto was preserved in Steffi Geyer's archives and, in accordance with her will, the work was not performed until 1958. Its premiere was given by Hans Schneeberg and an orchestra under Paul Sacher in Basle. The score was published by Boosey and Hawkes, London, in 1959.
